

ORGANISING TEAM

CINDY CHEW

Cindy Chew, a physician educator at the University of Glasgow and Immediate Past President of the Scottish Radiological Society. She envisions this gathering as a catalyst for connection, reflection, and shared wisdom among women radiologists. Cindy seeks to build a legacy to strengthen local communities, shape national associations, and contribute to a global network that advances women in radiology.

MERIDITH ENGLANDER

Meridith Englander is an interventional radiologist with nearly two decades of clinical experience and a strong interest in advancing evidence-based imaging and interventions. She was the inaugural chair of the Women in Interventional Radiology section of the Society of Interventional Radiology (SIR) and was the 2020 recipient of the SIR Women in Interventional Radiology Champion Award. She is the Immediate Past President of the American Association for Women in Radiology.

SARAH AVERILL

Sarah L. Averill is a physician educator at the University of Rochester, where she is the inaugural Vice Chair of Wellness and Engagement in the Department of Imaging Sciences. She has experience developing wellness and engagement policies and curricula within healthcare organizations. In addition, she holds wellness coaching certification from Cornell University and is a licensed yoga instructor. For the last several years, she has directed her energies towards fostering wellness within healthcare organizations and blogging on topics ranging from mindfulness and meditation to cultivating awe and wonder.